Stakeholders Speak

A few of the many voices — former students, colleagues and industry collaborators — in their own words.

I have known Aditi since I was a student at MET Institute of Mass Media. She is a passionate and seasoned professional who is always willing to go out of her way to help her students in need. She is a great source of support and a reliable guide. As a mentor and career coach to budding media professionals, Aditi earns my highest recommendation.

What I like the most about Aditi's approach towards work is her interest in thinking out of the box. I have conducted multiple programs for her students. She has clear vision about what she wants us to drive through every session but gives complete freedom to conduct sessions in the style of the trainer. This makes working with her very easy. Aditi is always trying to find how she can add value through learning initiatives and exposing students to the real world through her industry connections. She is also someone who is constantly updating and upgrading her skills. My best wishes to you Aditi for all your future endeavours!

It's truly been an honour and a matter of great pride to be one of the students of Aditi ma'am. It was in the year 2013 when I entered MET completely oblivious about my future goals. Aditi ma'am showed me the direction which made me realise that I am meant to be a marketer. She supported me at every instance, during my personal and professional endeavours. An extremely dedicated and focussed person always persevering towards the betterment of her students. She has been my mentor, guide, friend, counsellor etc, I fall short of words. In this extremely competitive world, Aditi ma'am has truly been one of my biggest sources of motivation. I am blessed to have her by my side. Thank you for being there.

It was indeed a privilege to be working with Aditi ma'am. She is an amazing person and we can actually sense the love, respect and attention she gets from students, alumni, staff and faculty. I am particularly in awe of her ability to manage the course, studio, internship, placements, workshop, events, seminars, shoots, celebrity, social media campaigns for the college, etc. with a never ending smile. With an immense network, she helps all around without hesitation. She's a good mentor too, I can vouch on that from my personal experience and interaction with her. What impresses me the most is her quest to learn new things and develop her skills. A multi tasker to the core, and a focused one at that. A jack of all trades and master of many. I would like to wish her the best in all the endeavours.

Thank You: SHARP Series ELEVATE Adulting Accelerator Life Management Programme

Kirsty-Lee Sharp-Eke <KirstyLee.Sharp@nwu.ac.za> Thu, Sep 10, 2026 at 3:03 PM
To: aditi gosalia <aditi.gosalia@gmail.com>

Dear Aditi Gosalia

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your valuable contribution to the SHARP Series ELEVATE Adulting Accelerator Life Management Programme at North-West University, South Africa.

The ELEVATE programme is designed to extend learning beyond the traditional classroom by creating opportunities for students to engage with experienced academics, professionals and thought leaders on issues that are directly relevant to their personal development, professional readiness and transition into the world of work.

Your contribution to the programme exemplified the value of this approach. Through your presentations and engagement with our students, you shared valuable knowledge, practical insights and perspectives that encouraged learners to reflect more deeply on their own development and future professional journeys. What was particularly commendable was your ability to connect the subject matter to the realities that students encounter beyond the university environment. Your contribution encouraged participants to move beyond simply acquiring knowledge and to consider how they could apply what they learn in developing themselves as confident, capable and intentional professionals. Your willingness to give of your time and expertise also demonstrated a strong commitment to student development, knowledge sharing, professional development and lifelong learning.

The engagement created an opportunity for students to learn from experience and perspectives outside the conventional curriculum, thereby enriching their educational experience.

I greatly value the professionalism, enthusiasm and expertise that you brought to the programme. Your contribution helped create a meaningful learning environment in which students could engage, reflect, ask questions and consider new perspectives. As such, I would like to formally commend you for your contribution and sincerely thank you for supporting the objectives of the SHARP Series ELEVATE Adulting Accelerator Life Management Programme. Your participation represents a meaningful contribution to the development of our students and to the broader goal of connecting higher education with practical knowledge, professional development and real-world learning.

I wish you continued success in your professional and personal endeavours and sincerely hope that we will have further opportunities to collaborate in the future.

Kind regards
